Bodhicharya North America, on behalf of Ringu Tulku Rinpoche, is honored to support Rinpoche's teaching activities at your center or venue. Please review the following principles for the copyright and use of Rinpoche's teachings given at your center or event venue. This code of conduct provides auspicious conditions for all teachings given by Ringu Tulku Rinpoche, and is drawn from the Buddhist tradition which holds the teacher to be responsible for ensuring that his teachings are of benefit.

1) Ringu Tulku Rinpoche maintains all copyright interests in teachings he presents at your center, including recordings (audio, video), photos, and verbatim transcriptions, whether in digital or paper form. (Personal notes and photos for study and retention purposes are not included).

2) Digital copies of all audio/video recordings will be sent to representatives of the Ringu Tulku Rinpoche Archives within two weeks of the conclusion of his teaching program. Please deliver the recordings to:

info@bodhicharyana.org

3) Ringu Tulku Rinpoche may decide that an audio/video recording or written transcript of a teaching is not suitable for distribution. Any center so notified will withdraw all recordings or transcripts from distribution.

4) Subject to paragraph 3 above, the center or organization listed below is hereby granted a limited license to retain copies of audio/video recordings and photos for distribution to the center's members, and for purposes that support the mission of the center, contingent upon written approval of Ringu Tulku Rinpoche or his authorized representatives. Audio and video recordings shall include a copyright notice as follows: "© 20__ Ringu Tulku Rinpoche. All rights reserved."
